Revving up growth in FY3/23F

- 9MFY3/22 net profit beat expectations, at 85% of our FY3/22F NP forecast, due to better than expected profit margin delivery in 3QFY3/22.
- Genetec secured RM60m new orders, raising its total orderbook to RM198m in 3QFY22. We lift our EPS to account for the additional new contract wins.
- Reiterate our Add call on Genetec, with a higher TP of RM4.30.

Sequential earnings improvement in 3QFY3/22

3QFY3/22 revenue rose 10% qoq, due to higher contributions from hard disk drive (HDD) segment, which grew 2.5x qoq to RM10.6m. Meanwhile electric vehicle (EV) and energy storage (ES) and e-mobility segments sales fell by 2% qoq to RM53.5m in 3QFY22. Overall, 3QFY22 net profit grew 12.3% qoq to RM18.3m, a record quarterly PATAMI.

9MFY3/22 net profit jumped 34x yoy

Revenue in 9MFY3/22 jumped 96% yoy, driven by higher contributions from EV & ES and e-mobility segments. 9MFY22 EBITDA margins grew 25.7% pts yoy to 30.8%, which was attributed to i) a more profitable sales mix (EV & ES has better margins), and ii) better economies of scale. 9MFY22 net profit jumped 34x yoy to RM42.8m. At 85% of our full-year estimates, we deem this to be above expectations. Nevertheless, we expect a lower qoq sales and net profit in 4QFY3/22F due to the shorter operating period.

Robust orderbook replenishment prospects in FY3/23F

During its post-3QFY3/23 results briefing, Genetec's management said the group secured RM60m worth of new orders, bringing its orderbook to RM198m as of today, of which RM50m are related to the EV & ES and e-mobility segments, and the balance to the HDD segment. We gathered most of the new orders for the EV & ES segment are related to the pilot line for its North America customer's ES expansion plan in California. Meanwhile, the group expects more order replenishment in EV & ES and e-mobility solutions from its North America EV and Tier 1 automotive customers in FY3/23F. We raise our FY22-24F EPS by 3-8% to account higher order replenishment.

Diversifying growth exposure in Thailand

We see exciting prospects for Genetec as it participates in Thailand's EV ecosystem development with a potential partnership with Asia Precision Public Company Limited (APCS TB, NR). APCS is mainly involved in contract manufacturing service of precision metal parts for automotive customers. We gather that APCS supplies battery pack covers for a leading renewable energy player in Thailand, whose 1GWh lithium-ion battery plant in Thailand recently commenced operations.

Reiterate Add with a higher RM4.30 TP

Following our earnings upgrade, we reiterate our Add rating on the stock with a higher RM4.30 TP, still based on 40x CY23F P/E, 1 s.d. above the Malaysian automated test equipment sector mean P/E of 30x.

Key catalysts and downside risks ►

We see higher-than-expected orderbook replenishment from EV & ES and e-mobility, a rise in institutional funds' holdings, expansion into new customers or verticals, and potential interest in Genetec as an ESG play as potential re-rating catalysts for the stock. Meanwhile, lower orderbook replenishment due to delays in customers' plans and appreciation in the ringgit against the US$ are potential downside risks to our call.

ESG in a nutshell

In terms of ESG, we like Genetec for its growing business exposure to EVs (as an alternative to gasoline cars). Hence, Genetec's products allow EV makers to manufacturer more EVs (renewable products) as replacements for petrol cars. This will promote lower fossil fuel usage, which reduces carbon footprint and lowers wastage.

In terms of ESG disclosures, Genetec's sustainability statement is based on the Economic, Environment and Social Reporting Guide in Paragraph 30, Appendix 9C of the ACE Market Listing Requirements of Bursa Malaysia. We expect Genetec to improve its ESG disclosures going forward as it continues to grow its businesses

Keep your eye on

Two of the company's three independent directors have served more than 9 years. In addition, Genetec's board only comprise one woman director among its six members.

Implications

We are negative on this aspect. According to the latest update by MCCG (in 2021), the tenure of independent directors have been shortened to nine years without any extension. In addition, the Malaysian Code Of Corporate Governance (MCCG) suggests that at least 30% of board members should be female.

ESG highlights

Since 2014, the company has continued to invest and explore opportunities in the EV space. In FY18, the company managed to secure its first customer in the EV space, which is the world's largest EV maker.

Implications

We are positive on this development as Genetec's products help its customers produce renewable products (EVs and ES) as replacement for other non-renewable products, such as petrol cars and batteries.

Trends

The company has grown its revenue exposure to EV-related businesses from 1% in FY20 to 29% in FY21. We expect this percentage to grow higher in tandem with the expected increase in orders from its first EV customer.

Implications

We are positive on this matter. With growing demand for EVs worldwide, we believe that the company stands a good chance of being able to grow its businesses while, at the same time, helping the world reduce fossil fuel use.
